From Treatment to Healing: The Promise of Trauma Informed Primary Care

A lecture by Edward Machtinger, MD

When: Thursday, April 28, 2016 from 12:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.
Where: Health Sciences West Room 301, 513 Parnassus Ave.
Lunch will be provided

Edward Machtinger, MD, is a Professor of Medicine and Director of the Women’s HIV Program (WHP) at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). His primary academic interest is the relationship between HIV and violence against women. He is also interested in the healing power of peer support and disclosure. His current focus is on implementing and evaluating a scalable model of trauma-informed primary care (TIPC). He is a consultant with Federal health agencies nationally about the impact of trauma on health. Dr. Machtinger was the recipient of the UCSF School of Medicine 2013 Osler Distinguished Teaching Award and a graduate of Harvard Medical School and performed his residency in internal medicine at UCSF.